Volume 26 Issue 2

February 2018

Dear First family,

By the time you get this we will have finished our four-week series on our mission and vision. As a reminder, our mission is to help people:

- Belong by feeling welcome, valued and connected to our church community.
- Believe by developing a relationship with Jesus by grace through faith.
- Become passionate followers of Jesus who live out their faith in every aspect of life.

Our vision is to be a gospel-community where people are valued and become passionate followers of Jesus.

To achieve this in the coming year, there are a few things I believe we need to do:

1. Increase our evangelistic efforts. Wayne Cordeiro, author of The Irresistible Church, says that everything we do as a church should have as its goal a lost soul.
2. Make it your goal to pray John 17:20-23 every day of the year from this point forward. This is one of Jesus' last prayers and it is one of unity for all believers. Complete unity. Too many believers pray "my kingdom come, my will be done." It is difficult to have disunity if we are all focused on the same thing. Like reaching those who do not yet belong to Jesus.
3. After being in church for a while, we begin to see the church as a social club where we get to come hang out with friends when we should see it as a place of sending – sending believers out into the community with the message of Jesus. We should desire a place that is comfortable and welcoming for those who are to come and don't yet belong rather than our own personal retreat. We sing "Onward Christian Soldier!" not "Come and Sit!"
4. We also need to pray that God would open hearts to new methods. God's Word never changes but there has always been change in church. Church buildings change. Music changes. Did you know that the organ was invented around 246 BC, some 200 years before Jesus came on the scene? Early churches didn't have them so they must not have been necessary to grow the Kingdom. After having them in church, organs were removed from European churches following the Reformation in the 16th century. They believed the human voice itself was enough to worship God. So, you see, there has always been change in church. Someday, we will call the worship that is done in second service outdated and irrelevant. Times change and always will until Jesus comes back and establishes His kingdom once and for all. Now that will be a BIG change!

At our Deacon Retreat in January, I told the leaders that making "nice" decisions can lead to bad decisions. Tough decisions always offend someone but that doesn't mean they don't need to be made. Hang out in any pastor's office for awhile and you will see that it is impossible to please everyone. That is why I seek to please one and one only... Jesus Christ. My prayer is that we would be unified in His mission of reaching out to those who don't know Him yet no matter the personal cost to us. Let's be a church that pleases Him.

Pastor Rick

Dear First Baptist ,
We can't tell you how much it means to us to have you as a ministry partner! We praise the Lord for every single verse of Scripture He has enabled us to translate into the Dihahgat language. We also thank Him for the team He has put together to make it happen! There is still a long way to go but we couldn't have come this far without you! Happy New Year! May the Lord bless with joy, peace, and an ever closer walk with Him as you continue to serve our great God and King!
Lots of Love from,

Middle School Retreat

"Called to Greatness"
 February 23-25, 2018

When it comes to the Christian life most of us settle for mediocrity. The problem is that all of us have been called to greatness as followers of Christ. This weekend's goal is to awaken students to that reality and show them how to live this life of greatness. It will reveal the fact that greatness God's way is not the greatness the world around us touts. God helps us channel our energy and passions into a lifetime of building the Kingdom of God instead of an earthly kingdom. We will see how he helps us to know how to live this life for the long haul for him and his glory. Let's awaken this generation to see their call to greatness and see the amazing things they can do.

The retreat is at Camp Horizon and will cost $40 each. We have a blast and the weekend will be awesome. We are hoping for 50 students to go. We will leave at 4pm Friday, February 23rd and return on Sunday, February 25th for church at 11am. Church is usually over around noon and people can pick up their student after that. Spread the word, bring a friend and discover what it means to be called to greatness!

Some scholarship money is available! It will be absolutely the best retreat to be a part of.

Shreveport Mission Trip

March 18-24, 2018

Love Serves

For students 7th grades & up and sponsors

We will leave on Sunday morning, March 18th and we will stay at First Baptist, Shreveport and work through the First Baptist church in inner city work with homeless, tutor children, and work with the mission centers there in Shreveport.

When Action meets Compassion,
Lives change!

The cost of the mission is $325 each and covers most all the expenses. You can raise some or all of your funds at our youth auction March 3rd. This will be an amazing experience. Please come to the next meeting if you're interested in the mission and hear more about what we will do.

We will do a variety of mission work with children including tutoring, homeless, soup kitchens and the food distribution there along with learn a lot about Shreveport and the ministries there. We will need several sponsors for this mission so please pray about being a part of this.

You will come back a changed person closer to God and with a greater understanding of the many ways Christians are helping the poor and serving each other in Shreveport.

This mission is for those in 7th Grade and up, younger can go with parent. We need sponsors so parents please come to the kickoff meeting to hear more!

Our next meeting is Sunday Feb. 11th @ 6pm In the Youth Room.

Questions? Call Pastor Dick Smith @ 316-619-4813 or email him at dmoesmith@gmail.com

MUSICAL MISSION TRIP KICKOFF!

2018 will be our 19th Musical Mission trip and you are invited to be a part of an amazing mission. Over a thousand students and sponsors have participated over the years. We have covered all 48 inland states and five Canadian provinces during that time. Come Sunday, Feb. 11th @ 5pm in the Youth Room for the kickoff of next year's musical. We are looking at a north and west route this year. We will charter a bus and carry equipment in a van/trailer.

Are you creative? Do you like tech stuff? You don't need to have any musical talent to be a part of this amazing team. Do you want to be a part of something bigger than you? If so, come be a part of this year's mission, "Forgiveness". This mission is about serving as a team and seeing God work in our lives as we follow Him. We will also do mission work along the way. It is a mission trip for everyone 7th grade and up. Younger can go with a parent.

We have had 100% of those that wanted to go on a mission trip be able to go if they follow through and do their part. The cost of the mission trip is $550 and you can raise some or all of the funds needed at our Youth Auction, March 3rd. We welcome students from other churches, or those that don't have a church. Please share this with others and come to the our next meeting Feb. 11th

Excited about working together, Pastor Dick Smith.

Why I Keep Coming Back

An article about the National Youth Workers Convention by Pastor Dick Smith

It's 5am in the morning, my wife and I headed once again to the youth workers oasis of another NYWC in Memphis. As we arrived at the hotel and prepared to go to the first session, I felt the sense that I have been drawn here by God's invitation. There is so much still to learn and experience in the short four days of the convention.

Those who choose to answer the call into ministry have a common bond. Most people in our church have lives that are like a stool with three legs. They have their spiritual life, their professional life, and their family life. If one of these legs wobbles, they have two others they can lean on. For pastors, those three things can merge into one leg. When you sit on a one-legged stool, it takes a lot more concentration and energy. It's a lot more exhausting. For those in ministry, we teter as we attempt to maintain a balance. It is a very difficult thing to navigate, and many fall, which in turn has a crippling effect on our faith, family and our ministries. It is so good to come to a conference with people who have this "three-legged life" in common. We find hope in the community of youth workers.

We come seeking answers, inspiration, and practical tips in ministry. Immediately, the first speaker, talked about loving people. It sounds so simple, but it's not. We were talking about love for those you don't understand, those that scare you. My mind wandered to my church family back home. I thought of my own struggles to love as I know I should and of others in my church who are struggling with the same issue, and the lack of unity we have experienced as a result. My soul longs for us to love. My heart began to pray: "Lord help me love and lead others to do the same. We need a second touch. Underneath we've become hard, Lord, break up the hard plow pan in our spiritual soil, as a farmer does to his field in order to grow a healthy crop, and help us become spiritually healthy again."

The seminars at the conference offer an amazing wide range of resources to equip us in this ever-changing youth ministry we are a part of. Two seminars really helped me. In our student ministry back home we have seen a huge jump in our middle school ministry. It feels like we are herding cats sometimes. But I keep remember something that was said at the conference that I needed to be reminded of, "Do you see them as a problem to be solved or a wonder to behold?" There is a drive within us all that desires to have what we do matter and have purpose. Behind that drive there is lasting inspiration to remember the wonder of it all.

I headed to a seminar titled, "Understanding Teenage Brains." Knowing what is going on in their brains when they enter puberty could probably change the world. We know about the physical aspect of puberty but it's the cognitive that is ultimately going to shape their lives moving forward. They are shifting from concrete to abstract thinking as they experience a huge spike of neurons in their brains during this time. For the next few years they will need our help in wrestling with their doubts and how to process that while helping to normalize what they are experiencing.

What really excited me was learning about the anterior cingulate, the section of your brain that is right behind your frontal lobe. Part of its function is to help us understand God as compassionate and loving. Studies have shown that prayer, meditation and faith based singing grow the anterior cingulate. When we sing we tap into the anterior cingulate! I am a worship leader as well so I go home understanding the worship I lead matters in ways I never knew.

The second seminar that stood out for me was, "What Research is Telling Us About Flourishing in Ministry." I went to this one because I have worked with people in ministry who have burned out and I have also come close to the edge of it myself. The seminar sought to help us become aware of the signs of burnout and how to measure our spiritual well-being. One particular measure is the lines between positive and negative sacrifice. We suffer when we don't ever take the hero cape off when we fail to know the difference in these types of sacrifice. When we learn to manage these correctly we stay vibrantly attached to the Vine and it could be the difference between staying or leaving the ministry because of burnout.

God is faithful. Each year the dream which first inspired us to begin in youth ministry is revived. We may have entered the weekend with a dwindling flame, but after we gather together at NYWC with thousands of youth workers from across the country, the fire in us is reignited. This year, as I head home, I am reminded once again of that dream. I am not alone, God is with me, he is with us.
